Nestled on a quiet residential circus, this three-bedroom end terrace property on Radford Grove Lane offers a fantastic opportunity to restore and modernise a spacious home full of character. With a generous footprint, original period features, high ceilings, and large windows throughout, the property is bursting with potential and ready to be transformed into a beautiful family residence or investment property.

The home sits on a pleasant plot with off-road parking and both front and rear gardens, making it ideal for families or anyone looking for outside space. The location is highly convenient — within easy reach of the Queen's Medical Centre, the A52, and just minutes from Nottingham City Centre, with excellent public transport links. It's a popular area for families, students, and medical staff, offering strong long-term appeal and rental demand.

Internally, the property welcomes you into a compact entrance hall with stairs rising to the first floor and access to the bright bay-fronted lounge. This room benefits from generous proportions, large windows, and tall ceilings, creating a sense of space and light typical of properties from this era.

To the rear, the home opens up into a spacious open-plan kitchen diner, providing a fantastic footprint for modern living and future upgrades. A ground floor bathroom is tucked to the rear and the layout offers flexibility for redesign.

Upstairs, there are three good-sized bedrooms, all benefitting from high ceilings and plenty of natural light. The home also includes ample built-in storage and a loft space, ideal for additional storage or potential conversion, subject to planning and regulations.

The property benefits from full uPVC double glazing throughout, providing a solid base for renovation. With its traditional features, spacious layout, and outstanding location, this home presents a rare chance to create something truly special.
